

ITB mobil iOS

For a closer and more effective cooperation between veterinarian and farmer, we have created the modules ITB mobile (for your own Iphone) and stable book mobile (for the farmer's iphone). In this context, the farmer receives a simple, clear and mobile herd management for all iOS devices after the data has been provided by the veterinarian. The veterinarian directly sends his farmer's current animal stock from the ITB Bestandsführung to the farmer's mobile device by email and receives additional information from the farmer that would otherwise not be available. The new data is ready for evaluation immediately after the import.
